

Newly Filed Probate Cases

Probate is the legal process of settling the estate of a deceased person, which resolves all claims and distributes the decedent's property. In Illinois - if a person passes away, and their possessions were titled only in their name, then the heirs have no authority to sell them – unless the property is "probated." A probate court supervises probate in order to ensure the decedent's property is distributed according to the direction of his will and the laws of the state.

Probate cases are filed in each respective county and deal with individual estates. This information can be very useful to attorneys, title companies, debtors, mortgage companies, investors plus many more.

Record Information Services compiles information on a daily basis and offers new lists on a weekly basis.

Testimonials

"I have been using Record Information Services Foreclosure and Divorce Databases for many years. I have found the data to be both accurate and very timely. I would recommend RIS to any of my colleagues in the real estate business. Their web site is state of the art and their customer service is second to none. Recently, I also subscribed to use their Probate databases. They are innovative on how we can market our services better. "
